

PB-15 Set-Up Instructions

Step #1A

Remove & discard foam, washers, nuts & bolt from mount arm (these were used in shipping to keep parts from being lost). Remove the quick-release plate from your tripod head. Set the plate on a flat surface (table, desk, etc) with anti-skid pads on top & tripod's bolts pointing up. Set Mirror Image mount arm on top of the plate so that the tripod's bolts go thru the long slot in mount arm. Place Mirror Image T-Nut into the long slot so that it sits over the top of the tripod's bolts (longer, flat surface of the T-Nut should be on the bottom so that the protruding sides point up and form a "U"). Thread the tripod's bolt(s) into the tapped hole(s) in the t-nut (sandwiching the mount arm between the t-nut & quick-release plate). Before tightening the bolt(s) completely, position the t-nut & plate assembly near the front of mount arm (toward the LCD monitor). Tighten securely.

Step #2

Place mount arm & tripod plate assembly back on tripod's head.

Step #3

Slide mirror into pockets above LCD screen. Mount your camera to the top of the riser using either the large or small camera knob & bolt. The knob & bolt are inserted thru the hole in the top-plate, and then threaded directly into the camera. Place camera lens in hood opening and secure fabric with the drawstring. **The picture on the right shows set-up with a release plate (not provided by Mirror Image) used on some larger ENG style cameras****

Step #4

Do a final balance check and adjust mount/head as needed. Plug in monitor & connect to computer.
